Who We Are

The Glacial Prairie Chapter is a grassroots community dedicated to protecting the rare prairie, savanna and wetland habitats of southeastern Wisconsin. We actively steward these threatened places through hands-on land management and provide education about these rare ecosystems.

Immerse yourself in Wisconsin's natural communities and join us in helping them thrive. Attend a field trip to learn about native wildlife, gain experience with restoration equipment and techniques at a work party, and build connections with your community.

Nature Near You

Just outside Wisconsin's busiest urban centers lie some of the rarest native habitats on the planet, from prairies and fens to oak savannas, barrens and woodlands. Uniquely shaped by the movement of ancient glaciers and the fires set by Indigenous peoples for thousands of years, the sites we steward provide essential habitat for dwindling species like Blanding's turtles and red-headed woodpeckers.

Whether you've never been on a prairie or have a wealth of land stewardship experience, everyone can help save their local habitats. Volunteer activities include hosting educational events, removing invasive species, planting native plants, collecting seed, and conducting prescribed burns. Visit our website or scan the QR code on the back panel to get involved.
